200 MEN, MACHINES FIGHT FOREST FIRE WEST OF TOWN

Men and equipment have been hard pressed during the past few days fighting fires at several points in the area. Brush is tinder dry and constant gusty winds have led to one outbreak after another.

Cause of greatest concern is the fire raging through a large acreage of forest west of Drayton Valley. On Tuesday morning about 200 men were still in the area stretching from Pan American's A Lease and west parallel to the Cynthia-Easyford road.

Information coming out of the area is sketchy and the last authentic report received by The Western Review about noon Tuesday indicated that the fire was about three and one-half miles from Cynthia and moving out of control in a north-westerly direction toward the community.

Up to noon Tuesday (as we close our press forms) the fire had covered an area estimated at almost 9 or 10,000 acres. At times Sunday night it was moving along a seven mile front.

The fire leaped the Pembina River and crossed the Easyford-Cynthia road at one point but was contained in that area.

On a visit to the area Monday morning the editor of The Western Review observed about 10 or 12 bulldozers clearing fire breaks in front of the fire's advance. Tank trucks from Drayton Valley and other communities were on the scene providing water to fight the numerous fires leaping through the area. A Forestry Branch helicopter was also moving supplies from the base camp at Cities Services bridge to the fire fighters at different locations.

Major outbreaks in the area visited were crowning in the trees with flames leaping 100 feet in the air. Fanned by the wind the flames leaped forward over roads and clearings without slowing the advance.

First call for help came Sunday afternoon and the RCMP and Drayton Valley Municipal Police began recruiting men. Two bus loads left town Monday morning at 3:30 a.m. Another forty men followed Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning forty or fifty more were taken to the scene.

Many firms are operating Tuesday with skeleton staffs and the normally busy community of Drayton Valley is

FARM MARKET SUGGESTION CONSIDERED

A regular meeting of the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce was held in the Jade Cafe at noon on Thursday, May 9th.

Among the subjects discussed was the changing of the road between Drayton Valley and Lodgepole to highway status as a continuation of Highway 57.

Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways, had earlier informed the committee working on the project that funds would not permit work on the road this year. However, it was felt by the committee that the subject might be reviewed at a later date and it was decided that the Chamber's Highway Committee would lend its support to the district group in seeking the change to highway status at a later date.

Another important discussion concerned setting up a farmer's market in town as suggested by a farm group in the Carnwood area.

The membership agreed that such a market, set up one day a week for the sale of farm produce, would be a welcome addition to the community.

The matter was discussed at some length in regard to possible sites for the market and other details. The proposal was left with the Agricultural Committee to investigate before the next meeting.

unusually quiet.

Wells have been closed down in the danger areas and oilfield employees are working with the fire fighters and endeavoring to protect installations threatened by the blaze. Reports of damage to oilfield equipment have been received but the extent of damage unconfirmed.

Tank trucks supply water for men battling the fire about the midway point along the Easyford-Cynthia road.

Former Resident Returns for Visit

Mrs. Nathan Mitchell, an old time resident of the Drayton Valley, Styal and Reno Districts, re-visited the areas recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell homesteaded in the Reno District in 1924 and lived there for four years. Because of no school in the district, they moved to the Styal area where Mr. Mitchell worked in the lumbering business.

In 1930 Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and their five sons and one daughter moved to the Drayton Valley District, to a homestead that was at that time one mile west and one and one half miles north of the small settlement. On re-visiting the farm site, Mrs. Mitchell was amazed to see that the town had grown the mile west, and the old farm site was virtually on the edge of the town.

Mrs. Mitchell was much interested in visiting the Anglican Church in Drayton Valley, the same Church where she had been organist for five years in the 1930's.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent visiting with Mrs. Nick Urchysyn, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tucker had been close friends and neighbours of the Mitchell family. Mrs. Mitchell was much interested in hearing about her many former friends and neighbours, but time did not permit visiting any more at this time.

In the Reno area and the Rocky Rapids area, many of the old buildings still standing were of much interest to Mrs. Mitchell especially Dad Neighbour's old house which had been the centre of the social events in the early days.

While in the area, Mrs. Mitchell was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hadley of Evansburg, and also visited Mrs. Palmer and family, Mrs. Hadley Sr., Mrs. Kate Eaton, and Mrs. Annabelle Taylor, whose parents had also been neighbours of the Mitchells in the early Reno days.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell had made their home in Sydney, B.C. for the past several years, but with the passing of Mr. Mitchell last August, Mrs. Mitchell now resides in Victoria.

Model Volcano Intrigues Youngsters

Youngsters in Mrs. Baker's Grade 3 class at the Elementary School are shown admiring a model volcano that was the center of attraction at the school last Friday afternoon. The class has been studying Japan and when the subject of volcanoes came up decided to build one moulding clay around a small can that served as the core. The volcano was loaded with Ammonium Dichromate and during the afternoon other classes were invited in to view scheduled eruptions of the model. The youngsters were delighted with the show of fire and ash that danced a few inches above the top of the core.

SULATYCKY WINS LIBERAL NOMINATION

Allan Sulatycky, a Whitecourt lawyer, was named the Liberal candidate for Rocky Mountain Constituency last week.

Voting for the nomination was held at four places in the constituency at different times with the winner requiring only a simple majority.

The ballots, counted in Jasper last week, gave Mr. Sulatycky 242 of the 486 votes cast. Edson lawyer Allan Catonio was the runner-up with 217 votes.

Mr. Sulatycky contested the federal by election in the former Jasper-Edson riding last November for the Liberals and lost to Tory Doug Caston of Edson. Jasper-Edson riding is a part of the huge Rocky Mountain Constituency under redistribution.

FARM NOTES

After June 30th all horned cattle weighing over 250 lbs. that are marketed in Alberta or shipped out of the province will be subject to a $2.00 a head penalty.

This amendment to the Horned Cattle Purchases Act is intended to encourage dehorning of calves during the spring and summer when it causes the least setback and discomfort and to provide the most attractive offering to buyers of feeder and stocker calves.

Under our present marketing system, where a large percentage of calves are sold at weaning time, it is virtually impossible for second owners to dehorn the animals with safety because of weaning stress and the uncertainty of weather conditions.

With the previous practice of basing horn deductions on the recognition of a division between cattle and calves at 400 pounds, many lots of calves were divided according to weight variation. Although the light calves were not subject to a penalty, they were just as much of a problem to the second owner as the heavier ones which were subject to the $2 a head deduction.

It is strongly recommended that cattle producers make a special effort to dehorn calves before they reach the age of two months. Such a practice will not only be welcomed by the buyers of feeder and stocker calves, but will also avoid the horn deduction.

Trying to retain one's sanity in this topsy-turvy world could drive a person crazy.

Mumps, mumps, mumps and more mumps. At our place anyway. At the present time some of the boys are just getting over the mumps, some of them are just getting the mumps and some of them have mumps at their best. And the girls still have to either have mumps or get over their colds. But then, it seems many families are going through the same thing and fortunately for us none of the children have been desperately ill.

The Holly Springs Community League held a meeting at the Hutchinson home on the 11th in order to have a speaker from ARDA come and address the group. Mr. Bossart, from ARDA, attended and explained the clean up program that has been undertaken in the area, especially farther west of here. He showed slides illustrating how old unsightly farmsteads, that have been abandoned for years, are being disposed of. A very interesting evening was enjoyed by those who attended the meeting.

The boys in the Wolf Cub Pack are now busy limbering up their muscles as well as their knowledge of semaphore signalling in order to take part in the Cub Rally that is coming up on June 1st. This Rally will be held at the Pembina River Park and visitors are welcome to see the boys have a whale of a good time.

The members of the 4-H Club held their regular meeting on the 10th at the Tuttle home. They also went on their annual beef calf tour on the 13th, and some of them attended the achievement day program put on by the Entwistle 4-H members.

The children attending the United Church Sunday School held a candy and cookie sale on the 12th. From what I've heard it was very successful.

Don't forget the Rummage Sale to be held this Saturday in the hotel basement and sponsored by the Kinettes. And how about helping them out by having your afternoon coffee there, too, as they will be serving tea and coffee from 2 to 5.

Having had all this dry weather has helped the farmers get through their spring field work in good time as several of them have been heard to say that they are almost done in the fields.

DAYS OF COLORED CREAM CANS GONE

The days of the brightly colored cream cans are all but gone in Alberta.

According to the provincial Dairy Branch, most creameries are removing the paint from cream cans, except for the owners name and address. The reason is to prevent any possibility of chipped pieces of paint getting into the cream.

Since most cream cans are picked up by trucks belonging to the creameries, there is no need for painted cans. Quick identification of cream cans on the railway station platform is a thing of the past.

The Dominion Convention of the Royal Canadian Legion will be held in Penticton, B.C. from May 26th to 31st inclusive. Alberta Command will be represented by 205 delegates from all parts of this Province.

Out of approximately 400 resolutions listed, 48 will be presented by the Alberta delegates. Fourteen of these deal with pensions and allowances on such items as a review of pensions and allowances paid so that they may be brought into line with the present day minimum income requirements, more consideration for widows and dependents such as treatment rights in D.V.A. hospitals and that under age widows with children be eligible for War Veterans Allowance by reason of being unemployed.

Some 1300 delegates and their wives will completely take over Penticton, the smallest centre to ever host a Legion National Convention.

EARLY DEADLINE FOR DRAYTON DAZE

The Western Review issue of May 29th will be devoted to a large extent to "Drayton Daze", a town-wide shopping event by Drayton Valley business places. Merchants are co-operating in offering town and area residents a weekend of outstanding values in all types of goods and services.

In order to insure that copies of The Western Review are in the hands of residents of adjoining districts prior to the first day of the sale Thursday, May 30th, publication will be advanced one day. For this reason the deadline for all copy next week will be noon Monday, rather than the usual Tuesday.

Out-of-town papers will be mailed on Tuesday with normal Wednesday afternoon delivery to town subscribers.

The town-wide event, the first in recent years locally, will be held on May 30th, 31st and June 1st.

ENTWISTLE NEWS

MRS. E. OLIVER, Correspondent.

The Entwistle and district Chamber of Commerce and the Entwistle Community League are holding a 1st of July sports day. Particulars to be announced later.

The 4-H Clothing Club held its annual achievement night on May 13th, and it proved very successful with the girls having done some wonderful work. The demonstrations were well presented and the talent showed in the entertainment that they put on.

A fashion show of the articles were seen with Pat Smith as the commentator Dawn Brown gave a summary of the years work, and introduced the members of the club. Mrs. C. Wood made a presentation of a trophy to Penny Tufty for having the best Secretary's book for the 1967 year. Mrs. Marlene Jubenville commented on the girls work.

The winner of the best first year Project Book was Debby Nelson. The Second Year Project Book was won by Audrey Anderson and Dawn Brown. The Achievement day winner was Debby Nelson and she had done a lovely job on all her articles.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Jubenville, and on behalf of C of C Dave Gylander presented Debby, Audrey and Dawn with their plaques. Mr. Nelson and the C of C was given a small token for their work, also the Community Church for letting the club use the basement. Several others were thought of for their small endeavours for the club. These were all appreciated and of course the leaders were not forgotten.

Everyone enjoyed the evening and the girls served a lovely lunch.

The Entwistle Community Library opened its doors for the first time on Saturday, May 11 and reported a good number took out their membership. It was very gratifying to the board, the support that was given. Anyone who would like to help at the Library would be more than welcome. The hours for the time being are: Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. There are a fair amount of books and more will be obtained as the funds grow.

Sympathy of the district and friends are extended to Mrs. Cliff Stevens on the recent death of her mother.

Mr. Andrew Braaton died on Sunday, May 12th, and our district will mourn his loss. Before going to the home for the aged at Edson he lived and worked in Entwistle. He was well known as an old timer among us and he was buried on May 16th.

On May 14th new officers were installed in the Elks and the O.O.R.P. D.D.E.R. Bro. Tom Mitchell and D.D. Lady L. Welsh installed the two lodges. They were assisted by Bro. Leo Jensen and H.R. Lady Joan Kereluk.

Those taking office were:

New Regulations Govern Sale Weight of Weaner Pigs

Weaner pigs weighing less than 22 lbs. can no longer be sold at Alberta auction markets.

Dr. G.R. Whenham, assistant field services director with the provincial Veterinary Services Division, reports that this regulation was passed recently by Order in Council to prevent the high incidence of disease and deaths that frequently occur soon after young pigs arrive on their purchaser's premises. He points out that because young pigs and calves have very little resistance to disease, the stress encountered during transit and at the market itself often brings on disease.

Similar regulations prohibiting the sale of calves under eight days of age came into effect on January 1, 1967.

The results have been most gratifying from the point of view of both purchasers and auction market operators, says
Dr. Whenham.

Since it is not practical to use age as a criterion for young pigs, a minimum weight of 22 pounds was agreed upon by auction market inspectors who attended a meeting in Red Deer early this spring.

Dr. Whenham points out that any dispute regarding an inspector's judgement concerning the weight of a pig will be settled by weighing it. If the animal is found to weigh less than 22 pounds, its owner will have to take it back to his premises, and keep it there until it reaches the required weight.

I.G.A. Construction Started

Construction of the Drayton Valley I.G.A. Store got underway last week in the vacant corner south of the Royal Bank in the downtown business area. Owner and manager of the new store, Dale Gaehring and Mayor Bob Findlay (R) combine their efforts in a sod-turning ceremony to mark the official start of construction. Looking on from left to right are, John Thomsen of Thomsen Built Homes Ltd. of Rocky Mountain House, the contractor, and Walter Protsack of Rocky Mountain House. Mr. Gaehring will be moving here in August and plans to open the new store about September 1st.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Summary of regular meeting of Town Council held on Thursday, May 9th.

Representatives of the Drayton Valley Rotary Club attended the meeting with a request that the community Rotary Park be dedicated to citizens of the town and the town take over its care and maintenance.

Considerable discussion took place on the proposal with the general feeling of Council that the Rotary Club should assume some share of the maintenance costs of the park, especially in view of the agreement now in existence between Council and the Lions Club regarding Lions West Valley Park.

The matter was left in abeyance until the Rotary representatives had an opportunity to return to the club with the cost sharing proposal.

Mrs. Mildred P. Lindgren of Edmonton, owner of property that the town would like to have subdivided into residential lots, attended the meeting to discuss the matter. Mrs. Lindgren was opposed to a clause in the agreement whereby Council felt it should have some control over the selling price of the lots if the owner was given the privilege of deferring payment of Local Improvement Frontages until the time of sale.

No agreement was arrived at before Mrs. Lindgren left the meeting and Council later decided to offer deferment of frontages for a period of three years.

Mr. Roy Kemp, Minister of the Pentecostal Tabernacle, was present to explain the particulars of an illuminated sign on the church roof about which a complaint had been received.

After hearing the details, Council granted permission for the operation of the rotating, neon-lighted cross.

Council ratified the appointment of Al McKillop to the Municipal Library Board.

Council approved the subdivision of a 20-acre parcel on SE 1/4 Sec. 9-49-7-W5 as submitted by E. C. Meraw through the Provincial Planning Board.

A report on the fire siren was presented by Town Engineer W. G. Tuttle who had investigated the matter along with Fire Chief Don Greiner. The report indicated that moving the siren was not feasible because of costs involved.

The fire chief pointed out that department attendance at fires is very good indicating that the siren, in its present location, is serving adequately.

It was decided, however, to eliminate the noon test of the siren and it will in future be sounded only once daily at 9:30 p.m.

Garden Club Holds Meeting

IAN FERRIER, Reporter.

The 7th meeting of the Sundance 4-H Garden Club was held May 7th in Sundance Hall. There were 12 members and 3 members of the Adult Committee present. The roll call was an herb and its use.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read followed by the treasurer's report. A report was given of the recent catering done by the club with the Beef Club.

Some ideas were discussed for fund raising, many were given and will be discussed further at a later date.

The members displayed their project books and they were examined by the adult committee. Many interesting comments and suggestions were made for improving the books. Some members already have part of their garden in.

The meeting was adjourned and lunch was served.

An optimist is a guy who buys a wallet on credit.

Marchers Asked to Turn in Pledges

Financial results of the May 11th "Miles for Millions March" have not been completed yet but the sum is expected to be in the neighborhood of $6000.

Marchers who have not yet collected pledged amounts from sponsors are asked to do so as soon as possible and then deposit the money at the Drayton Valley Branch of the Royal Bank.

The deadline for receipt of funds has been extended to Saturday, May 25th.

Official receipts for those who require them will be available from the March Committee as soon as those taking part in the march have deposited funds and the amounts contributed by sponsors calculated.

The money raised in this event has been earmarked for four purposes: OXFAM, Operation Crossroads Africa, the Indian-Eskimo Association of Canada, and a local fund for charitable emergencies.

Certificates of Achievement for those who made the march are now available at Bambees and The Bay.

Pedal Pushers Cancelled

Pedal Pusher classes have been cancelled for the balance of this week and will re-commence Monday, May 27th.

The classes have been postponed because of the urgency surrounding the fire situation and also because the town parking lot, where classes are held, are filled with the cars of men out fighting the fire.

Chamber Convention

The 30th Annual Meeting of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce will be held in Edmonton, May 26th, 27th and 28th. D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Our sympathy is extended to Mr. Fred Duckett whose sister, Mrs. Annie Jones of Fallis passed away suddenly last week.

When the Marchers for Millions passed along the roads Saturday before last, among the many citizens who cheered them on their way were Mr. and Mrs. Rene Belva, owners of Rocky Rapids General Store who passed out handfuls of chocolate bars.

Mrs. E. A. Wilson, of Winnipeg, is spending a month with her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Kemp. Much enjoyed meeting this charming lady who is foster mother to welfare babies in her city.

Over forty babies have passed through Mrs. Wilson's capable hands and she has personally been responsible for finding adopting parents for half of them.

Cpl. and Mrs. Helander and their family will leave soon for their new home in Peace River. We understand that we will soon be saying "Sergeant Helander". Congratulations.

Mrs. Cull writes that she is settled in Abbotsford and thinks she will like it when she gets over being homesick for Drayton Valley.

On Saturday the W.I. will be holding its annual plant and bake sale at Block's Store. Proceeds from the sale help to finance the Women's Institute Flower Show held each year in August.

THE FOOD BILL

Many women tell me they spend too much on food.

Try planning your menus a week and preferably two weeks ahead. (This is in general terms. Knowing the most you will serve is the main thing.)

Then make a shopping list and stick to it. Shopping once in two weeks will also help you to cut down.

Convenience foods, trading stamps games, contest and gimmicks add to the total cost.

Compare the price of brands. Sometimes a cheaper grade will do just as well as fancy grade--depending on the use.

Meat takes about 30% of the food dollar so care should be taken in selection. Cost per pound is not a good indication. Cost per serving is. Just because short ribs are 49¢ a pound, this doesn't mean they're cheaper than sirloin at 89¢. A pound of short ribs (49¢) serves one person; a half pound of sirloin (45¢) will also serve one person. To say nothing of the pineapple and other trimmings required to make the ribs edible. Cheaper cuts, however, are equally nutritious.

Compare whole grain cereals (hot cereals, muffets, shredded wheat, all-bran and bran flakes) with highly refined, puffed, or sugared types. Often the list of ingredients shows sugar first--indicating that's what you're buying most of and at a good price for just sugar.

Keeping a record of food expenditures will help to point up leaks and problems in your purchasing.

A normal child can walk perfectly without shoes, says The Canadian Medical Association. In many parts of the world this is normal practice. However, in Canada, with concrete walks, steps and paved road, not to mention snow, some protection for the foot is necessary. Therefore we have shoes.

Children's shoes should be designed for protection of the foot from hard and irregular surfaces. They should be comfortable and allow for normal growth. Any shoe that does not fulfill these requirements is bad for the child's foot regardless of the price tag.

Children do not need shoes for the first 10 to 12 months of life, until they can stand. They do not need shoes while playing on the lawn or in the sand during warm weather. It's good for them to run bare-foot.

Frisolous shoe designs such as pointed shoes are bad for children's feet because they interfere with normal growth, and compress the bones of the foot into abnormal positions during important periods of growth and development. These shoes should be avoided regardless of the pressures to conform with fashions. The addition of wedges and lifts to children's shoes should be considered only on the advice of a physician to correct specific conditions--not for cosmetic purposes.

It should be remembered says the C.M.A., that during the first two or three years of life children's feet normally look as if they are flat. However, they are flexible, they cause no trouble, and usually require no treatment of any kind.

Health Unit Report Reviews Activities of Past Year

Annual report of the Edson Health Unit for the past year was submitted to the Health Unit Board recently by Dr. Helmut Kohlhepp, Medical Officer of Health.

Members of the board are Mr. A. Grant, Edson, chairman; Mr. J. Wynne, I.D.'s 79, 95 and 96, vice-chairman; Mr. G. Dompnier, I.D.'s 77, 78 and Lodgepole; Dr. H. Shimbashi, Drayton Valley; Mr. D. Brookhard, Hinton; and Mr. D.K. McElroy, C.A. secretary-treasurer, Edmonton.

The population in the Health Unit, according to official statistics, changed from 24,545 to 22,877 during the year while the boundaries remained unchanged.

EPIDEMIOLOGY

Two hundred and sixty-eight cases of notifiable diseases were reported in the Health Unit in 1967. This compares very favourably with the seven hundred and thirty-four cases reported in 1966.

No epidemic of measles, as in 1966, occurred during this year. This may be attributed to the measles vaccination program in progress since early 1966.

During the last three months of the year eleven cases of diphtheria carriers were found by routine investigations in Drayton Valley. All cases became negative under intensive antibiotic treatment. It is interesting to note that not one case with clinical signs of diphtheria occurred. This fact points to a high level of immunity in the population concerned.

The number of reported cases of Infectious Hepatitis was sharply reduced from 161 in 1966 to 65 in 1967. However a continuous increase of cases of Infectious Hepatitis was reported from Hinton towards the end of the year. All close contacts, whenever possible, were given gamma globulin and the prime importance of personal hygiene was brought to their attention.

The incidence of Scarlet Fever and Streptococcal Sore Throat was considerable during this year but at no time epidemic proportions were reached.

The Division of Social Hygiene reported 28 cases of Gonorrhea. No cases of Syphilis or other venereal disease were reported. All contacts were directly investigated by this division.

SCHOOL SERVICES

Hearing and vision tests as well as immunization and T.B. screening programs were carried out during the whole school year. During the first half of the year 667 pupils were examined by the Medical Officer of Health on a routine basis. During the later part of the year 262 pupils, referred by teachers and nurses were seen by the Medical Officer of Health.

CLINIC SERVICES

At different locations in the Health Unit a total of 235 clinics with an attendance of 8,259 were held during the year. Unfortunately the adult attendance at these clinics remained low at only 16% of the total.

CHILD GUIDANCE CLINICS

A total of 47 children were examined for assessment in 1967. A seminar with the Child Guidance Clinic personnel was held in December. Many of the suggestions made at that time are to be put into practice, on a trial basis, during 1968.

DENTAL SERVICES

During the first half of the year the dental program with examinations, prophylaxis and topical application of fluoride was at the desired level. However with the exception of Hinton the program had to be discontinued in July 1967 due to a lack of qualified field personnel.

Oral Fluorides were continued to be dispersed during the whole year. It is hoped that we will be able to reinstitute the program fully during 1968.

ENVIRONMENTAL HYGIENE

Municipal water supplies have been tested routinely and all samples were found to be satisfactory. The number of requests for testing private supplies is steadily increasing, which would suggest that people are becoming more conscious of water quality.

Considerable sampling of rural water supplies in the Violet Grove area was carried out due to reported high lead concentrations. Initial laboratory analysis revealed that several supplies were unsuitable due to the lead content exceeding the maximum allowable amount. Results of follow-up samples indicated lesser amounts of lead present.

The quality of raw milk shipped to the Pasteurization Plant at Evansburg is of reasonably good quality as revealed by the results of 152 out of 168 samples showing a plate count of less than 50,000. The Health Unit Trophy for the most improved dairy farm for 1967 was awarded to Mr. J. Deleeuw of Carrot Creek. The N.A.D.P. Plant at Evansburg was awarded 4th place in the Provincial Quality Control Competition.

The standard of hygiene in restaurants has been reasonably good, however, in some cases constant surveillance is required. During the year 41 public eating establishments were in operation, two restaurants ceased operations and ten establishments had a change in management.

Routine inspections of construction and pulp camps revealed sanitary conditions and facilities to be of a good standard. All summer camp grounds were checked regularly for water supplies, toilet facilities and garbage disposal. The general sanitary conditions of these campsites were very good and all water reports were satisfactory.

All swimming pools in the area were regularly checked and found to be operating satisfactorily. Routine water samples were forwarded to the Provincial Laboratory for analysis and some difficulty was experienced in attaining the stipulated Provincial Standards.

Inspection of all waste disposal grounds were carried out and in general conditions were good.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"One thing, any guy who has his own helicopter must have money."

Temperatures And Yields

BEAVER LODGE--Wheat, like many humans, apparently prefers days that are warm and nights that are pleasantly cool.

From the CDA's Research Station here, Dr. A.C. Carder reports that tests have shown that wheat flourishes to a greater degree when there is a substantial variation between day and night temperatures.

The tests were carried out at two sites: In a valley where there was a marked difference between temperatures, and on a plateau about 700 feet higher up where the days were not as warm nor the nights as cool. The daily fluctuation over a 24-hour period averaged about seven degrees more in the valley than at the higher altitudes.

and this condition prevailed from emergence to heading of the crop, the period when wheat probably is most sensitive to daily temperature variations.

The wheat in the valley produced denser growth than that on the plateau. It also developed more rapidly and for much of the summer it stood two to three inches taller than the wheat at the higher elevation, says Dr. Carder.

Some other results: The valley wheat ripened eight days earlier, produced more heads, and it yielded four bushels per acre more grain than the wheat on the plateau.

Except for the day-to-night temperature variations, other environmental factors--including the average temperature and the type and condition of soil--were almost identical. Thatcher wheat was used.

Choose Your Fertilizer Wisely

A number of organic fertilizers, claimed to supply plant nutrients and increase organic matter in the soil, are appearing on the market in Alberta.

A. W. Goettel, head of the Soils Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, points out that organic fertilizers, also referred to as natural fertilizers, contribute very little towards maintaining or increasing the organic content of the soil.

Although farmers should never underestimate the value of both the physical and chemical properties imparted to the soil by organic matter, the application of an organic fertilizer at $120 a ton is a very expensive way of supplying this material. Mr. Goettel says that returning straw, stubble, green manure, and barnyard manure to the soil and growing forage crops in a far more efficient and economical way of replenishing the soil's fibre content.

As far as plant nutrients are concerned, organic fertilizers usually contain relatively small quantities of available nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. The inorganic or chemical fertilizers, sold by well-known fertilizer companies, are the cheapest forms of plant nutrients. They contain relatively high percentages of these elements. It should be pointed out that most organic fertilizers have to be converted into an inorganic form before they can be absorbed by the plant.

Mr. Goettel stresses that the value of any plant nutrient is in proportion to the amount lacking in the soil. To obtain economical responses, only those nutrients which are deficient should be added. Since Alberta soils are generally low in nitrogen and phosphorus, the application of these nutrients provide the highest returns.

Farmers can find out which nutrients are lacking and the quantities of each that should be added by testing their soil or by consulting a fertilizer guide. A publication entitled "Guide to Fertilizer Use in Alberta" is available from district agriculturists and the publications office of the provincial Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

A very tired gentleman dragged himself into a barber shop and slumped down in the chair
"Give me a shave," he said.
The barber told him he was slumped too far down in the chair to be given a shave.
"All right," sighed the man wearily, "give me a haircut."
